

Multi-tasking

'You are my sunshine; my only sunshine.
You make me happy when skies are grey.'
"How much is that doggie in the window?"
nobody likes me + everybody hates me = guess i'll go eat worms
Glory Hallelujah!

The other night, dear, as I lay sleeping
I read in the papers, there are robbers with flash lights that shine in the dark long thin slimy ones; short fat juicy ones
"I'll always love you and make you happy."
Nobody knows but Jesus.
Nobody knows my sorrows.
"I do hope that doggie's for sale.
Oh! How they wiggle and squirm!"

'Sometimes I'm up, sometimes I'm down
Oh, yes, Lord.'
Down goes the first one, up comes the second one.
"I don't want a bunny or a kitty."

'You'll never know, dear, how much I love you.
Oh, yes, Lord. Although you see me going along so.'
Nobody knows the troubles I've seen
"I don't want a parrot that talks."
You told me once, dear, you really loved me and . . .
And I hung my head and cried.
I must take a trip to California and leave my poor sweetheart alone.
If you get there before I do -
"You can't take a goldfish for walks.
If he has a dog, he won't be lonesome."
Oh, how they wiggle and squirm;
but, now you've left me.
No one else could come between.
Oh, yes, Lord.
And the doggie will have a good home

and love another.

Sometimes I'm almost to the ground.
Up comes the first one. Down goes the second one.
I have my trials here below.
"I don't want a bowl of little fishies."
My love needs a doggie to protect him."
Glory! Hallelujah!
I dreamed I held you --
Oh, yes, Lord --
in my arms.
You'll regret it all someday.
Tell all my friends I'm coming too
(The one with the waggly tail).
No one else could come between.
Nobody knows the troubles I've seen.
Itsy, bitsy, fuzzy wuzzy worms.
And scare them away with one bark.

"But if you leave me to love another."
You have shattered all my dreams.
I was mistaken.
Nobody knows the troubles I've seen.

'Please! Don't take my sunshine away!'
If you will only say the same.
